Dear Esteemed Parents and Guardians,

The 2023–2024 academic session has been a remarkable year filled with exciting and educational activities. We are grateful to God for His protection, preservation, and divine providence throughout this term. We also deeply appreciate our distinguished parents for their supportive and tireless roles. May God continue to support and provide for you; your purses will never run dry, and you shall not labour in vain over these children.

Accomplishments in the Last Session

We are proud of our achievements this past term and are committed to bringing out the best in every child at their own pace of learning. At A+ Solid Foundation School, we transform every disability into ability, aiming to create future leaders who will excel among their peers.

General Advice

We urge parents to monitor their children closely during the vacation, censor what they read and watch on television, and encourage them to continue daily prayers and reading the Word of God. They should also complete all their assignments and projects.

On behalf of the School's Executive Director, Education and the entire staff of A+ Solid Foundation School, we wish all our parents and learners a happy holiday.
